Elf survival plan

Set a phone alarm

A 9 p.m. "move the elf" reminder saves most mornings. If you still forget, letter #3 or #5 has you covered.

Keep it small

Kids remember the letters more than the big setups. A two-line note in a new spot is enough magic.

Plan your "big kid" moment

Letters #27 and #28 turn the end of the elf tradition into a proud promotion: your child becomes a magic-maker for younger siblings.
