How to use the routine kit

Pre-readers follow pictures, not words. Put the chart where the routine happens – the bathroom door, the bedroom wall – and let your child color a dot for every step.

1. Pick the chart
   Morning and bedtime charts with 8 steps each. Print a new one every week, or use a sheet protector.
2. Or build your own strip
   Cut out the picture cards and stick them in order with tape or velcro dots. Swap cards as your routine changes.
3. Do it together for a week
   Point at the next card instead of giving the next instruction. Less talking, fewer power struggles.
4. Celebrate
   Color a star on the reward chart for each finished routine. Seven stars? Time for a small family treat.

Printing tips

US Letter and A4 PDFs included. Print the cards on card stock and laminate them for a routine that survives toddler hands.

Good to know

Every child is different. Use the steps that fit your family and skip the rest – this is a gentle planning tool, not parenting advice.

FOR GROWN-UPS

Make It Stick

- [ ] Keep the same order every day – predictability is the magic.
- [ ] Give a 5-minute warning before routines start.
- [ ] Offer two small choices: "red pajamas or blue?"
- [ ] Praise the effort, not the speed.
- [ ] Lay out clothes the night before.
- [ ] Use a song or timer for teeth brushing (2 minutes).
- [ ] On hard days, do the routine together instead of skipping it.
